

Yungdrung Update:

Yungdrung is doing well in Pokhara these days. She is currently doing her one-year internship in the hospital, which started in December 2021. And these days, she is assigned duty in the Emergency Room of the Gandaki Medical College. She shared that she is gaining good practical skills and experience regarding adapting and responding to new situations at a moment's notice. Further, she is learning valuable leadership, communication, and critical thinking skills while expanding my knowledge.

Since she is planning to pursue her career as an emergency medicine physician in the future, she is enjoying her internship duties in the ER department these days.
